The report from Los Angeles is that some demented twit threw a knife at the Sabres' Brian Spencer during a game with the Kings in the Forum.

Such weird deviates are not your average, everyday hockey fan in the NHL. In fact, there really is no such thing as your average, everyday hockey fan, as there are as many kinds and types and assorted varieties of fans as there are human beings.

But it is intriguing to come up with an image of fans in each NHL city, gleaned from visits to each arena over the past few seasons. The typical hockey fan in each town is really atypical, but let's examine some of them anyway.

Atlanta — (homo sapiens y'all) Dressed in a tan gabardine suit with stylish loafers edged in red clay, the Atlanta male arrives late for the game — and for the beginning of play in each period — and leaves early. He is accompanied by the most attractive average female fan in the league. The distaff fan sometimes is confused by the absence of a halftime show, and has to quickly cover her lapel pin that exhorts the "Ramblin' Wreck" to "beat 'Bama."

Boston — (homo sapiens card) The last word is pronounced by this fan as "cod," but he is one of the wittiest in the league. The Boston fan can be seen making his way through the grime of Boston Gardens to a seat where he can toss one-liners at visiting players and broadcasters in a dialect unintelligible west of Springfield.

California — (homo sapiens loner) For years this fan, wearing a knit golf shirt, sat all alone in the arena, shouting in unison with himself as the Seals were usually flipped on their backs by game's end. Now the team is better, and this fan wears knit golf shirts with little alligators on them, and is even thinking about learning the way into San Francisco when the club moves.

Chicago — (homo sapiens daley) Wearing leather jackets and combat boots for self preservation, Mr. and Mrs. Chicago Fan make their way to the Stadium through what can most politely be called a tough neighborhood. Consequently, they're among the most surly in the league, and the lovely couple have been known to boo during the warmup.

Detroit — (homo sapiens clutch) Similar in temperament to the Chicago fan, Mr. Detroit has seen the Red Wings mugged in the Olympia parking lot and on the ice for years. Often leaves his seat early, as Detroit has many recalls.

Kansas City — (homo sapiens cattle prod) Your average fan here still doesn't realize he's at a hockey game. Thinks instead he may have been shunted through cattle chutes to a big, well-lit pen, as stockyards surround the Kemper arena. Wears old clothes just in case.

Los Angeles — (homo sapiens wretched excess) Charo is your average Kings fan.

Minnesota — (homo sapiens slap shot) Since nearly everyone in the state plays hockey on one level or another, this fan comes to the Metropolitan Sports Center in full equipment, ready to step on the ice should he be needed. And of late, he was.

New York — (homo sapiens porn) Average fan able to swear in a minimum of three languages and four dialects. Hobbies include assault, battery and pushing people off subway platforms.

Philadelphia — (homo sapiens gloat) Mr. and Mrs. Average Fan in the City of Brotherly Love come to the game in Nazi helmets, goalie masks and Flyers jerseys and do not know the meaning of the word humility.

Toronto — (homo sapiens blase) Your average Leafs fan is not sure he's at the game or home watching it on television, but always sits on his hands, calling for special tailoring of his knit suit's sleeves.

Buffalo — (homo sapiens decibel) The Buffalo fan is most vocal, most appreciative, sometimes critical, but usually the classiest in the league.

Note: I couldn't say anything else, or I would become the extinct species of a hockey public relations man — the homo sapiens sap.

Quiche Lorraine eats at Mother's Bakery

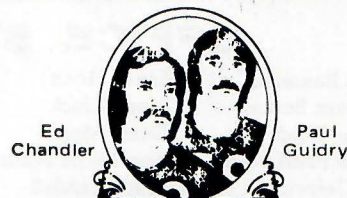

Quiche is quite a dish. Super wow fashion plate from Kalamazoo. Chic clothes. Fabulous figure. Nice Braces.

Ms. Lorraine is the current amour of quick offenseman Pierre La Flame. Ace forward for the Depew Silk Stockings. But recently traded to the Iceland Bergs. Pierre made quite a name for himself in Buffalo. Bright. Witty. Bon vivant. Raconteur. Social gadabout. If only he could skate.

Quiche spends most of her time flying between Seventh Avenue and Delaware Avenue. Wearing a Halston slightly off the shoulder. Carrying a Hermes Bag. Nifty platform wedgies from Woolworths. Terribly au courant.

Both Quiche and Pierre, Buffalo's fun couple, can frequently be seen cooling their heels at Mother's Bakery. After all, isn't everybody who's anybody? Devouring thick, juicy Guidry Burgers. Sumptuous Julianne Salads. Spicy Chicken Wings. Generous drinks. And real draft beer. Quiche, a free lance Interior Decorator, is currently repainting the Sistine Chapel in Rome. "Something in an off white or a nice beige," she suggested to the owner. And God knows who he is.

Sabres Penalty-Shot Tally: Blocked 6, Missed 6, Made 2

By JIM PETERS

A guy I know was telling me recently he hasn't missed a Sabres' home game since Seymour, Norty and the boys brought the club to Buffalo.

An enviable record, but the guy surprised me when, for some reason, the conversation turned to penalty shots and he told me he remembers seeing only two tried here in Memorial Auditorium.

Well, maybe he goes out for a beer frequently. As of March 23, there have been eight penalty shots attempted in the Aud since the Sabres joined the National Hockey League. Perhaps the guy lost count because we've never seen anyone score here off a penalty shot.

The first ever involving the Sabres was attempted here by Paul Andrea Nov. 5, 1970. He failed against Dunc Wilson, then with Vancouver.

We've also seen Pittsburgh's Lowell MacDonald go down the drain against Roger Crozier; John Gould, then a Sabre, come up empty against Montreal's Michel Plasse; Washington's Tom Williams stopped by Gary Bromley and Detroit's Pierre Jarry foiled by Crozier.

Then the Sabres took over the shooting end. Don Luce tried twice the same year (1975), if not the same season, and lost decisions to Kansas City's Denis Herron and Washington's Ron Low. And Rene Robert tried as recently as Feb. 22 here, only to make Montreal's Ken Dryden breathe easier by having trouble with the puck.

In all, the Sabres have attempted eighty penalty shots since entering the league, their opponents six.

Only two of the 14 have been successful, both times on the road. Andre Boudrias scored against Roger Crozier March 9, 1973, in Vancouver's Pacific Coliseum and Rick Martin bested Philadelphia's Bernie Parent Jan. 31, 1974, in the Spectrum.

It always had made Sabre fans wish that their man with the moves, Gil Perreault, might get a crack at a penalty shot. And Le Gros did, 18 nights before Robert, in Los Angeles against the Kings' Rogie Vachon.

A first for Perreault, a fourth for Vachon, who earlier in his nine-year NHL-career had stopped Minnesota's Jude Drouin, the New York Islanders' Billy Harris and, a year ago, California's Joey Johnston.

Little Rogie was talking about them after he foiled Perreault.

"There's a lot of luck involved," he said. "I just happened to guess right on all four and made the saves. If they have four more on me, maybe they'll score the next four. You never can tell."

Vachon says the primary asset of the goaltender is his having confidence he can stop the shooter.

"You've got to have that," he said. "There's a lot of pressure on both of you. I don't know about anybody else, but I get a little nervous because everybody is watching you and you have a lot of time to think about what's going to happen."

"At the same time, you really have to concentrate on what you're doing. On Perreault, I wanted to make him make the first move. And I did. I waited and waited, and then caught it with my blocker."

"A guy like Perreault is very tough to figure out. I've faced him a lot of different times. Sometimes he shoots and other times he dekes."

Vachon figures it was a case of nerves that made Harris unsuccessful against him in 1972.

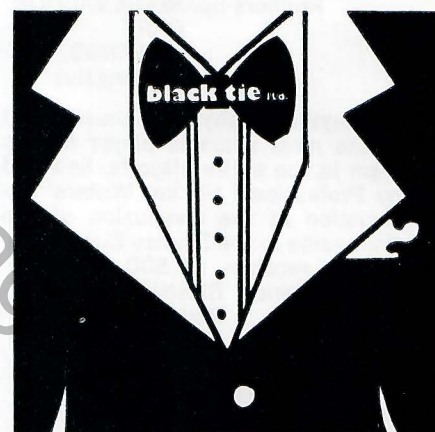

"Billy was a rookie and, boy, was he nervous," recalled Rogie. "Well, he tried to deke me and lost the puck. He got it back but, by then, it was too late. The referee had blown his whistle."

"But I'll tell you, it's a very personal thing between the two of you. If you stop him, you have a great feeling of accomplishment. Stopping a penalty shot is a lot tougher than stopping a breakaway. There's nobody back there on defense that can help you. It's just you . . . period."

In 12 of 14 cases involving the Sabres, it has been enough.

A little something no true thoroughbred racing fan should be without.

It's called a Turf Club Membership. And any racing fan who receives one will be able to use it all year long.

A Turf Club Membership is a passport into the first class world of entertainment, excitement, cuisine and elegance that thoroughbred racing is all about.

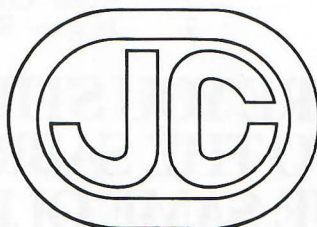

The Turf Club Membership comes three ways.

The Woodbine Turf Club. Offering facilities unequalled in North American Racing. Free valet parking and Clubhouse admission. Two elegant dining rooms, one just above the finish line, the other overlooking Woodbine's beautiful paddock area. A delicious menu. A separate lounge bar on each floor (there are two), both fully air conditioned and served by closed circuit monitors for viewing the races and race replays, odds and photo finishes. Complete wagering facilities, via messenger. And, of course, free access to the rest of the beautiful Woodbine Track.

The Fort Erie Turf Club.

Located on the fourth floor of the Clubhouse. Your Fort Erie Membership includes free valet parking and Clubhouse admission. The Turf Club is completely glass enclosed and climate controlled. There's terraced dining for 180, from a sumptuous menu. A comfortable lounge bar, from which members can view the races, odds, race replays and photo finish pictures via colour T.V. monitors. Both U.S. and Canadian currency wagering is available, which eliminates the need to exchange currency.

The Combination Turf Club Membership. This membership includes full Turf Club privileges at both Woodbine and Fort Erie.

THE ONTARIO JOCKEY CLUB
P.O. BOX 156 REXDALE ONTARIO

If you've been shopping around for the ideal gift for a racing fan, a gift that will be appreciated and remembered all throughout the coming year, than a Turf Club Membership could be just what you've been looking for.

The Turf Club Membership.

It's what every true thoroughbred racing fan would love.

CITIBANK 3-STAR SABRES AWARDS

Every Sabre that takes the ice tonight will be competing for the Three-Star Player Awards at the end of the game. Each time a Sabre is chosen for Three-Star Player recognition, he'll score Citibank points. Three points for each first Star, two points for each second Star, and one point for each third Star.

At the end of the season, every Sabre that has been awarded at least one Star will be awarded a gift from us.

If he places 1st, 2nd, or 3rd in final totals, he'll win Citibank Savings Bonds of $500, $250, or $100, depending on how he finishes.

So wish your favorite player good luck and watch the Citibank Three-Star Sabres' point totals listed below.

Three Star Selection Point Totals to April 1, 1976.

ARE YOU STILL DRIVING TO THE SABRES GAMES IN THE SAME OLD CAR?

Come see the man in Citibank's Auto Loan Department and we'll help put a brand new car in the Sabres' parking lot.

WHEN YOU COME INTO CITIBANK YOU GET HELP FROM THE BIGGEST BANK IN NEW YORK.

When you bring a business problem to Citibank, not only will it be solved by us, but you can also get the help of the biggest bank in New York State, not to mention the second biggest bank in the world.

First National City Bank.

With our branches, subsidiaries, and affiliates in 104 countries plus our 57 billion dollars in assets we can give you the help other banks in Buffalo just can't.

Like the time one of our customers couldn't locate the raw materials he needed to maintain production. We helped him track it down through one of First National City Bank's overseas branches.

Or the time we helped a hard goods manufacturer expand his export sales by introducing him to 25 prospective distributors around the world.

And Citibank customers can take full advantage of First National City Bank's computerized Financial Forecasting System.

This is a computerized information bank with different industries' statistics and forecasts, into which we plug your company's information. By correlating the two, we can give you an overall forecast for your company.

And because Citibank is Citibank, a local Buffalo bank, we're small enough to get to know you and your business. And big enough to assign a full time commercial banker to your account.

He knows the business opportunities in Buffalo and understands how to use his big connection in New York City to give you the best service possible.

For instance, we helped another Buffalo company expand its business fourfold by initiating $2,000,000 of domestic import letters of credit.

So if you have a business problem you'd like to discuss, stop by and discuss it with us. Call Dick Galaty, head of our Commercial Loan Department, or if he's busy, Sandy England, President, at 849-2400.

Tacks

There are twice as many professionals skating on Tacks than on all other skates combined.

Sabres Interview: John Andersen

'You Can Win Simply If You Have Desire'

By GEORGE ROBERTSON

First Hans Christian Andersen wrote about Silver Skates. Then John Andersen brought them to Buffalo.

John is the Sabres' director of scouting, the man largely responsible for the constant remark that the Sabres are one of the best young teams in hockey. His scouting apparatus has resulted in consistently good drafts from the junior and college ranks in the Sabres' five-year life.

Surprisingly, Andersen, a native of Denmark, had no background in hockey until he emigrated to Canada and joined Punch Imlach and the Toronto Maple Leafs. Except for one year in California with the Seals, John has been Punch's right-hand man ever since.

John works with a basic team of five scouts and many "bird dogs" who keep him advised on prospects. Until recently he lived in Canada, but has now moved to Grand Island, from where, he says, he has easy access to many leagues to watch players who may some day be wearing Sabre uniforms.

Q—John, how much time do you actually spend rating prospects yourself?

A—Quite a bit. I watch games in the Quebec Junior League, the Ontario Major Junior A, the Western Canada, American colleges, the American League and the North American League. I average about four games a week, not counting Sabre games, of course.

Q—In scouting players, what's the first thing you look for?

A—Skating is No. 1. If a guy can't skate, he can have all the talent in the world, but it won't help him because he won't be able to get into the play. After that, you go into other details like his toughness, his determination in going for the net and so on.

Q—Do you think the NHL's recently introduced central scouting system will help? What do you see as its effects?

A—In the first year, it's too early to tell. If the clubs find that the central system's rating of players compares with each club's own ratings, maybe the number of scouts will be cut back, fewer trips made, but that's two years down the road, when the current crop of players develops and we can compare them with their ratings.

Q—What's the toughest asset to judge in a young player?

A — What often disappoints me more than anything, what sours me on a player, is if he doesn't have enough desire, doesn't drive. In this league these days there are so many games you can win simply if you have desire.

Q—What's your opinion of the quality of the next draft, in June?

A—It's a bad year for talent, period. After seeing nearly every team, there's no way that any kid we'd draft could make the club, no one as good as McAdam or Breitenbach, even if we had a first-round pick, so we didn't give up much when we traded.

Q—In these days of economic worries, is there more pressure not to make a mistake in drafting?

A—No, the question still is basic: Is he a better player than so-and-so? The only difference is that fewer kids will be offered contracts. A lot more will depend on what he does in training camp. But it's right that with a first-round pick you'd better be sure he's going to make it, because you've got to give him a contract and if you're wrong, it's throwing away a lot of money. It was a heck of a lot easier in 1970, when we had the first pick, to come up with No. 1, instead of No. 15. This year our first pick will be No. 35.

Q—Do you foresee a continuing increase in the number of U. S. college players making the NHL?

A—No question about it. We're rating more of them. About 20 a year are given serious consideration. The caliber of college hockey is getting better, but it doesn't matter where you play if you can play hockey. The Russians proved that.

Q—Do you ever get tired of all the traveling?

A—Yes, you get sick and tired of living out of a suitcase, but it sure beats working in a bank.

In 1775, our forefathers, who had crossed the ocean in search of freedom, banded together as 13 colonies and established the United States Navy. From this beginning, the Navy is linked in spirit and tradition to each of the 50 states that now form our Union.

The 13 stars of the Navy's 200th Birthday insignia represent the 13 original colonies whose Continental Congress formed the Navy. Fifty links on the chain represent the modern states; and the anchor recalls the strength and bravery of mankind inspired by the sea.

THE HOCKEY RANCH

The Hockey Camp – that's really different

HOCKEY

The objective is to help the boy improve his basic skills — and gain confidence in himself — the result is that he enjoys the game more and is better at it. He gets lots of ice time at The Hockey Ranch.

SWIMMING

To provide enjoyment and relaxation — while improving his stamina a swimming program is included daily at the Hockey Ranch.

RIDING

A change is as good as a rest — and riding instruction as well as trail rides are a daily involvement at The Hockey Ranch.

CONDITIONING

A special conditioning program is optional — and is available at The Hockey Ranch. These are dry land hockey drills to get the boy into top physical shape for the coming hockey season.

ACCOMMODATION

Solid brick ranch style building — with broad-loomed sleeping quarters — the boys are in small groups according to age. The Dining Room is modern, roomy, and air conditioned. Food is prepared on the premises and features a balanced diet at The Hockey Ranch.

TRIPS

For a change of pace, the boys are taken out every evening to one of the following — sight-seeing, movies, Go-Kart Races, horse shows, Ontario Science Centre, the Zoo, the Hockey Hall of Fame at the Canadian National Exhibition.

The Hockey Ranch has been providing summer fun and good hockey for over 13 years now. Clip out the coupon below — now — and be sure that your boy has a summer he'll always remember. Fill it in and mail to The Hockey Ranch today for your brochure and enrollment form.

For full particulars fill in coupon and mail to THE HOCKEY RANCH.

MANUFACTURERS HANOVER REFEREES' SIGNALS

HIGH-STICKING

Holding both fists, clenched, one immediately above the other, at the height of the forehead.

CROSS-CHECKING

A series of forward and backward motions with both fists clenched extending from the chest.

HOOKING

A series of tugging motions with arms, as if pulling something toward the stomach.

SLASHING

A series of chopping motions with the edge of one hand across the opposite forearm.

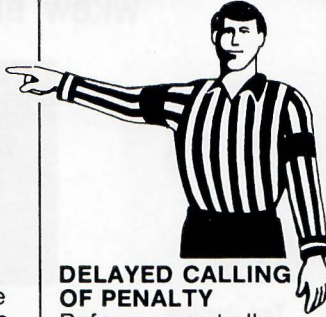

MISCONDUCT

Placing of both hands on hips several times and pointing to penalized player.

ICING

Arms folded across the chest.

DELAYED CALLING OF PENALTY

Referee repeatedly points with free hand (without whistle) to player to be penalized until play is stopped.

CHARGING

Rotating clenched fists around one another in front of chest.

ELBOWING

Tapping either elbow with the opposite hand.

TRIPPING

Extending right leg forward, clear of the ice, and striking it with right hand below the knee.

HOLDING

Clasp either wrist with the other hand well in front of the chest.

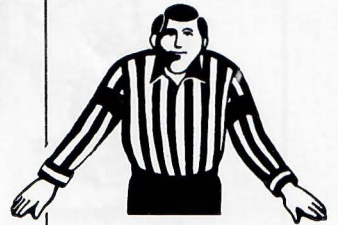

INTERFERENCE

Crossed arms stationary in front of chest.

SLOW WHISTLE

Either arm, in which whistle is held, extended above head. If play returns to Neutral Zone without stoppage, arm is drawn down the instant the puck crosses the line.

"WASH-OUT"

Both arms swung laterally across the body with palms down:

1. When used by the Referee it means goal disallowed.
2. When used by Linesman it means there is no icing or no off-side.

One wild card to be selected later in the season.

For people who hunger after victory.

Even after defeat, a person hungers. Below is a list of restaurants that appease great hunger and quench great thirst. They also welcome the American Express® Card. Go eat.

Park Lane Manor House. 33 Gates Circle, 885-3520. One of America's truly great restaurants. Park Lane Manor House with its superb food and excellent service combines the graciousness of the Old World with the excitement of today.

The Round Table. 153 Delaware Ave., 853-7055. Thick, juicy steaks and hearty drinks that satisfy any sports fan. A relaxing atmosphere makes The Round Table a winner any time.

Mastrantonio's. 899 Niagara Falls Blvd., 836-3366. When restaurants are so monotonously alike, individualism still reigns behind our doors. Relax and enjoy a European eating emporium in the middle of W. New York.

Mister Anthony's. 7800 Transit Rd., 632-6644. Specializing in Italian and American cuisine. Mister Anthony's features the finest theater dining in W. New York.

Chef's Restaurant. 291 Seneca St., 856-9188. Before the game, enjoy Italian food at its finest. This is the place where good friends meet to eat. Two minutes from the auditorium.

Prime Rib. 7700 Transit Rd., 632-7770. The finest prime rib in town. Excellent decor and service that leave you completely satisfied.

Michael's House of Steaks.

949 Prospect Avenue, 886-8929. Buffalo's only charcoal steak house. Great steaks, chops and lobster. Intimate atmosphere coupled with excellent service. Five minutes from the auditorium.

Foit's. 4437 Lake Shore Rd., 627-3970. Captain Benny will let you choose from the most extensive seafood selections in Upstate New York. All served in a friendly hospitable atmosphere, that has made Foit's a gathering place for people who love seafood.

Poet's Restaurant and Lounge. Holiday Inn, Airport, 4600 Genesee St., 634-6969. Delve into a unique selection of savory steaks, prime ribs and sumptuous seafood. Pleasant atmosphere with entertainment every day.

Victor Hugo's. 414 Delaware Avenue, 886-6700. One of Buffalo's most romantic places. A gourmet's delight. Select your vintage from Western New York's most unique wine cellar. A special place to take that special someone.

Tara Manor. Lord Amherst Motel, 839-0002. W. New York's largest salad bar with over 60 mouth-watering delights. Serving fine food in the tradition of Union Station. A great place to enjoy good conversation. Lunch and dinner served daily.

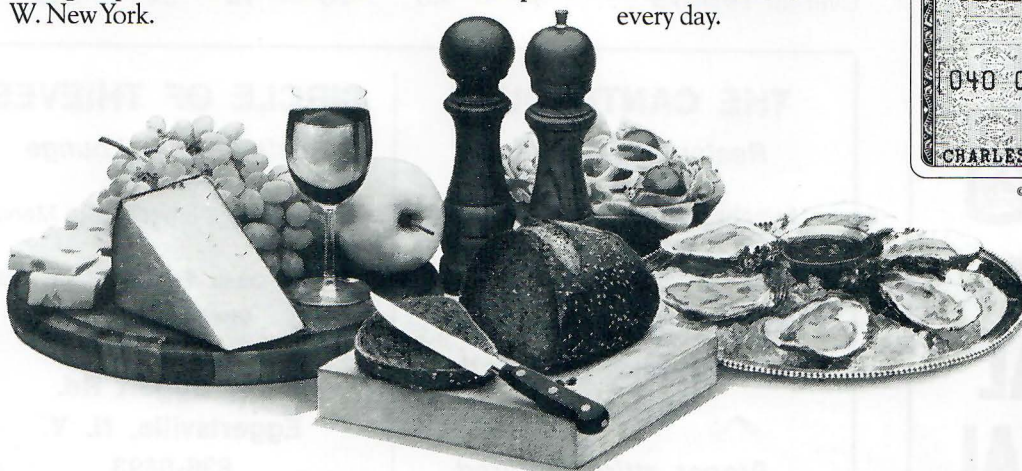

Lee Chu's. 2249 Colvin, 835-3352. The maximum in exotic splendor. Gourmet Chinese cuisine, Northern style. Largest choice in Western New York.

Fanny's. 3500 Sheridan Dr., 834-0400. Serving only the finest seafood possible from Boston, Baltimore, Florida and Hawaii, flown in fresh three times weekly.

Buffalo's outspoken sportscaster

Unlike the others, Rick Azar doesn't just report the latest headlines and scores. He delivers tough personal opinion as well. Whether it's substantiated fact, just a hunch, or a little of both, Rick lays it on the line.

That's Rick Azar and why he's different from the others.

The Mercedes-Benz 450SL: Freedom for two.

You know it the first time you meet. This is no ordinary 2-seater. The 450SL is a Mercedes-Benz. It's the difference between "driving" and "transportation."

The 450SL was designed to take two people and their luggage. Just two. And it takes them quickly. Smoothly. Devouring long journeys without fuss and fanfare. Driving is what the 450SL is all about.

First, settle yourself into the cockpit. Adjust the seat just the way you like it. Stretch out your arms and legs Grand Prix style, if you wish. The 450SL was designed to accommodate you—not the other way around.

Next, the pièce de résistance. Turn the key. Now just listen. The sounds of life in front of you come from a unique engine. A fuel-injected, overhead camshaft V-8 that gives you responsive performance without gobbling up your twenty-three-gallon fuel supply. You won't find this engine design in any other make of passenger car in the world.

Let the 450SL show you its stuff. Pick out a challenging stretch of road. The 4-wheel independent suspension and variable ratio, servo-assisted steering are ready for it.

Take a look at the luggage areas. There is a deep well behind the seats as well as a full 8.3 cubic feet of trunk space. And it's all under the protection of a central locking system. Turn the door key after you get out and the 450SL is sealed tight.

How can a 2-seater with all the luxury of standard air conditioning, AM/FM stereo radio, servo-assisted steering and brakes, an automatic transmission and a central locking system be considered a sports car? On the basis of performance, it could easily be called one. But we don't limit the 450SL to that. After your test drive, think about it. Don't you agree that "Freedom for Two" is what the Mercedes-Benz 450SL is all about?
